The Sacred as a Matrix: for Personal & Social Transformation is a two-day intensive that beckons us to awaken to the sacred within our self and others. It offers participants an orientation, tools, as well as a map and a compass, to support the transformational process of individuals, organizations, and communities. This presentation of transformational process includes:

- Mapping spiritual growth through ego maturation
- Experiencing and mastering levels of consciousness
- Exploring and mastering the fundamentals of breath
- Engaging in “sacred dialogue” supported by the integration of body, mind, heart and soul

Himayat Inayati Th.D., is an international spokesperson for Universal Awakening, a global initiative to awaken humanity to the sacredness within all of life. His work, which offers a truly universal perspective of the sacred, is rooted in the teachings of the great world spiritual traditions and is informed by current research in science. Himayat is a catalyst for the transformational process in others. He has presented training on mysticism and spiritual healing in fourteen countries around the world. And over the past 30 years, he has fostered an ongoing dialogue between spirituality and science centered on healing and transformational consciousness through numerous symposiums, conferences, and workshops. Himayat served as the international head of The Sufi Healing Order for twenty years.
